TELIRIS EXPANDS U.S. CAPABILITIES WITH OPENING OF MASSACHUSETTS MANUFACTURING FACILITY

Facility Supports Growing Customer Base of Leading Telepresence Provider

NEW YORK, NY- June 22, 2006 — Teliris, the leading provider of telepresence solutions, today announced that it has significantly expanded its U.S.-based capabilities with the opening of a new manufacturing facility in Whatley, MA.

As part of Teliris' quality assurance program, each GlobalTable™ is built and pre-tested before it is shipped to a customer. This is a very important part of Teliris program to provide 99+ percent reliability for all of its products and services to ensure that they can support mission critical collaboration anywhere in the world. The expanded facility is in direct response to Teliris growing customer demand in the United States as well as in Asia and Europe.

„Expanding our manufacturing capability is an important part of our ongoing commitment to pristine client service and a direct result of our continued growth and success,” said Marc Trachtenberg, Teliris CEO. „Our continued expansion in the U.S. underscores our commitment to U.S. customers and enhances our ability to provide the most reliable telepresence solutions virtually anywhere in the world.”

The new facility will be utilized for product development and will serve as one of two primary distribution centers for Teliris' industry leading telepresence solutions. The facility will open with 15 to 20 employees.

With over a 99 percent level of technical reliability, Teliris' GlobalTable solutions deliver the most advanced telepresence environments available - all transmitted over a secure and fully managed proprietary network.

About Teliris:
